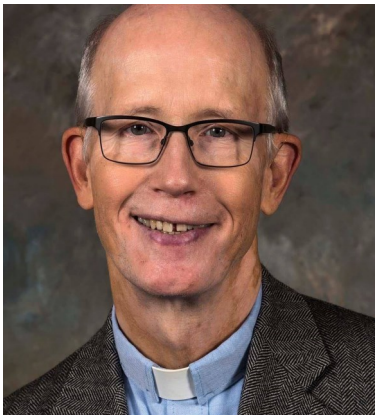
Pastor Mark!



Pastor Mark Bogen was welcomed as the interim pastor at Grace on Sunday, June 6. He has been called by the Northwestern Ohio Synod of the ELCA to Intentional Interim Ministry and was contracted by the Grace Congregation Council at their May meeting to serve as interim pastor.

Pastor Mark grew up in Hendricks, Minnesota, and went to college and seminary in Minneapolis - St. Paul. He was ordained in 1981 and has served settled calls in North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Ohio. He was the Associate Pastor at St. Peter in Norwalk from 1995 - 2011.

In 2012 Pastor Mark began a new phase of ministry as an interim pastor. Grace is his ninth interim ministry assignment, spanning two states and three synods. He completed basic training in Interim Ministry from Lutheran Transitional Ministry Association in 2013 - 2014 and has completed two years of the Leadership Series through the Healthy Congregations organization.

Pastor Mark lives in Huron, OH, with his wife, Marcy, who is a former Lutheran camp director, and since 1997, a 5th grade teacher with Norwalk Public Schools. She plays bagpipes for the 87th Cleveland Pipe Band.

Their son Erik is a geotechnical civil engineer working in Cleveland, and daughter Sarah has completed year three of a PhD in mathematics and statistics at Utah State in Logan, Utah.

In his spare time, Pastor Mark enjoys skiing, kayaking, reading, podcasts, and walking.

From Pastor Mark

It has certainly been a blessing to begin my ministry with you as your interim pastor, and I have appreciated the warmness of your welcome! Grace is truly an amazing place, blessed with a facility of unrivaled beauty, a dedicated and gifted staff, vibrant ministries, and members who live their faith every day.

At the June Congregation Council meeting, I laid out a broad overview of the interim process. As the Cheshire Cat in Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland points out, "If you don't know where you are going, any road will take you there." My task as your Intentional Interim pastor is to provide both the destination and a road. And your task, as congregation and leaders, is to be the engine, fueled by the Holy Spirit, to reach the destination of a new called pastor. Our task could be summarized this way:

The interim task is for the interim pastor and congregation to work together through any existing issues so as to remove or lower barriers to the congregation's ministry, so that they can be as healthy as possible when they move into the next phase of their ministry and life together with their next settled pastor.

But that will take some time and work on all of our parts. Over the coming months the interim pastor will work with the Congregation Council to address these opportunities through the appointment and work of a Transition Team.

The Transition Team works with the interim pastor to plan and guide a process that helps prepare the congregation for a new future under the leadership of a new pastor, involving the congregation by addressing five Focus Points:

- Heritage: reviewing how the congregation has been shaped and formed
- Leadership: reviewing the membership needs and its ways of organizing and developing new and effective leadership
- Mission: defining and redefining sense of purpose and direction
- Connections: discovering all the relationships a faith community builds outside of itself
- Future: developing an honest assessment of the other focus points so that the congregation can turn its energy toward proactive decision making for the future.

Reflecting upon these five Focus Points helps a congregation to answer the questions, "Who are we?", "What is God calling us to do?" and "Who are our neighbors?"

What would the Transition Team do? Some possibilities:

- Personal interviews, cottage meetings, or surveys to get input from congregation
- Analysis of the needs in the neighborhood and community
- Work on the vision and purpose of the congregation.
- Complete the Ministry Site Profile, the multi page document that will describe Grace to potential pastoral candidates.

I hope it is clear that this process will take some time. From beginning to end, the process usually takes about a year, sometimes longer, sometimes shorter. We already have some members who have agreed to serve on the Transition Team, and they, along with Council members, will attend a three-hour training workshop with me in July. Then the Transition Team will plan and implement the plan for the remainder of the interim process.

I look forward to working with you during the coming months, as we proclaim and live out in our daily lives the hope that we as disciples of Jesus Christ have, that we die daily to sin and rise to new life, and we live in expectation of life eternal with Christ.

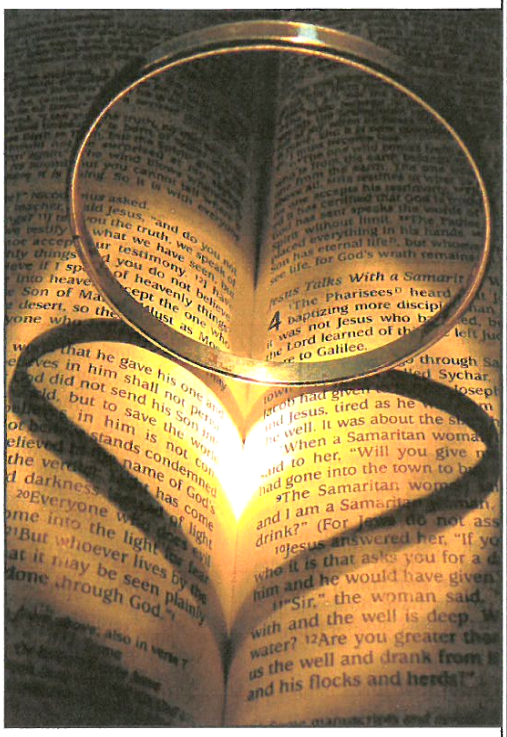
Living a Stewardship Lifestyle



When we discuss stewardship, we may immediately start to think of giving our time and money. Stewardship certainly involves giving and serving, but, even more, our stewardship is incorporated into a way of life. It does not consist of just isolated events. When God's word and love fill our hearts and minds, our stewardship becomes a lifestyle. As a lifestyle, it defines who we are and what we do. It is our vocation. With transformed hearts, we express our faith in the way we live our lives. Through faith, God provides motivation and power to live the Christian life in a growing awareness of redeeming grace.

In defining stewardship, W. H. Greever wrote, "Christian stewardship is the practice of the Christian religion. It is neither a department of life nor a sphere of activity. It is the Christian conception of life as a whole, manifested in attitudes and actions." Our faithful stewardship, as it reflects God's love, becomes our approach to life. It is more being than doing. Our deeds of stewardship such as using time wisely or helping the needy arise out of being stewards. Stewards are who we are. Stewardship is a whole life response to God out of gratitude and thanksgiving for all of his love, goodness, and mercy. T. A. Kantonen wrote, "The life of stewardship is nothing less than 'total devotion' to the Christ who is known as a real, living personal presence in the hearts of believers, a genuine loyalty that is expressed not in mere opinion or sentiment but in character and conduct."

It does not take talented people to be faithful stewards, but it takes all there is of us. It takes our total commitment. Stewardship is our response to God's abundant grace in all aspects of life. This faithful stewardship is only possible when we acknowledge our sinfulness and our forgiveness through faith in Christ. God gives us faith so he can use us to carry out his plan, which is to save all people. Through the work of the Holy Spirit, we acknowledge God in all things and in all places. As faithful stewards, we know that all we have belongs to him so we can give generously of our time, talents, and money.

"I have learned to manage on whatever I have. I know how to be poor and how to be rich...

There is nothing I cannot master with the help of the one who gives me strength."
